Grants to alleviate poverty are given across the board, regardless of religious or ethnic background.

Protestant Aid dispenses every cent received from donors in grant aid.
Chairman’s Report

Despite an increase in average incomes and other signs of economic recovery, CSO figures show that a significant proportion of the population is still living in very difficult circumstances.

Notwithstanding wider global political uncertainty, these families have more immediate concerns that relate to maintaining a basic standard of living as they continue their financial struggle, often on the margins of society.

Traditionally, employment meant you could manage at least reasonably well and pay your bills, but according to recent reports, poverty among working lone parents has more than doubled in the five-year period 2013 - 2017. One in five working lone parents was living below the poverty line in 2017, with children often bearing the brunt that financial distress brings.

Our own General Grant Application Programme confirms the significant need that continues within our society, with a 9% increase in funds distributed during 2018 compared to the previous year. Working with many organisations such as The Simon Community, Barnardos, The Peter McVerry Trust and Focus Ireland amongst others, Protestant Aid continues to give hope and practical assistance to those in difficult financial situations due to ill-health, addiction, separation, homelessness and many other challenging and arduous situations.

The average value of our grants given in Social Worker cases increased by 5%, reflecting the serious circumstances of many applicants who applied for assistance. As always, we were there to help, thanks to the consistent generosity of our faithful donors for whom we are very grateful.

Our General Grant Scheme is inclusive, with genuine need taking precedence over denomination or ethnicity. We are particularly conscious of helping those of advanced years and our Emergency Heating Initiative in early 2018 was a caring and compassionate demonstration of that disposition, with almost 250 people benefitting from extra support towards heating costs during a particularly cold spell.

I continue to be thankful to all the Board members as well as the volunteers of our various committees for their unrelenting dedication and support over the last year...

We have an efficient and well-run Charitable Services Department that processes a multitude of applications and enquiries each year with professionalism, compassion and complete confidentiality.

Phase 1 of the St. John's House building project was completed successfully during the latter half of 2018 and its quality build and design represents an outstanding standard in nursing care. Phase 2 is well underway, with completion expected by the end of 2019, when the residents of St. Mary’s Home will be transferred to this new and comfortable environment.

I continue to be thankful to all the Board members as well as the volunteers of our various committees for their unrelenting dedication and support over the last year - thanks also go to our Chief Executive, David Webb, for his hard work and leadership. Finally, thank you again to our donors whose generosity makes our work possible.

Arthur Vincent,
Chairman

Thank You

Mary is 91 years old and over the last year her physical mobility has deteriorated severely.

She was crawling up stairs to get to her bedroom and bathroom and was also finding it extremely difficult getting in and out of the bath, even with carer support.

Mary received an adaptation grant to have a stair lift and level access shower installed in her home but she could still not afford to pay the shortfall on just her pension and was extremely worried.

Protestant Aid assisted Mary by giving her the funds to cover the shortfall of the grant. Because of this, Mary had the stair lift and bathroom installed, enabling her to live independently and safely in her own home.

Many thanks to Protestant Aid.

Lisa Fennelly,
Projects Officer, ALONE
Our Annual Report is more than just a review of our financial performance and another year’s work. It is a testament to all those who have played a part in our ongoing journey, from our loyal donors that make it possible for us to run our various services and grants schemes to the many volunteers who give up their time to support and assist us in our mission.

Our staff, including the nurses and carers in our nursing homes, administrators, maintenance team and the charitable services team work incredibly hard and we are very fortunate to be able to call upon a wide range of dedicated caring individuals in helping us achieve our goals.

In Brabazon, we continue to provide the highest levels of care and the list of events and activities for the Residents grows each year; whether it is a musical recital or a day excursion, there is always the wonderful hum of activity.

Residents certainly live a full, independent and as active a life as possible. In St. John’s House, 2018 saw the residents move into Phase 1 of the new building. This was a significant milestone for the residents and staff and as the building project nears completion we are looking forward to the merger with St. Mary’s Home.

We look forward to exciting times ahead in our nursing homes but are mindful that the healthcare environment remains challenging due to increasing regulation and costs. Thankfully, with the wonderful care teams in both Brabazon and St. John’s, we believe we are up to any of the challenges that lie ahead.

We are very proud of the work we are doing in education, particularly our comprehensive and secondary education grants which can be a great assistance and a vital resource for many families and has resulted in better opportunities and a brighter future for many children who have been supported.

Looking to the Future

We are very fortunate to be able to call upon a wide range of dedicated caring individuals in helping us achieve our goals
Looking ahead, I think there are opportunities for improvement and we are currently undertaking a root-and-branch review of our structures, processes and procedures with a view towards modernising.

For example, we are looking to a move towards digitisation and online platforms for our grants applications and perhaps other areas. This will not only enhance our use of data analytics to improve our services but will also improve efficiency and help us cut down on costs.

I hope that in reading this report, it will spark in you a desire to contribute to the fantastic work. By supporting us, you play a vital role in helping people who are struggling and living on the margins of society. Thank you again for your continued commitment and, with your ongoing support, Protestant Aid is ready for the challenges ahead.

David Webb,
Chief Executive

Thank You

I provide Tenancy Support to a lady who resides in a Rental Accommodation Scheme property with her three children.

This lady suffered from mental health difficulties and she has a daughter with a severe and distressing health issue. During a period of family and mental health difficulties, this lady was struggling with household bills.

Protestant Aid granted funds towards her mounting bills which meant she was able get back on track with sustaining her family household. This lady’s mental health improved greatly, as her financial difficulties were decreased due to the support of Protestant Aid.

Niamh Delaney,
Focus Ireland
The Department of Employment Affairs and Social Protection advises that:

‘People are living in poverty if their income and resources (material, cultural and social) are so inadequate as to preclude them from having a standard of living which is regarded as acceptable by Irish society generally. As a result of inadequate income and resources, people may be excluded and marginalised from participating in activities which are considered the norm for other people in society.’

It’s a short paragraph but it covers a multitude of issues that we come across every day from a variety of General Grant Applications.

Make no mistake, poverty is damaging and pervasive, excluding and marginalising those in its path and, while it is essentially about a lack of basic necessities, housing and resources, it is also about a lack of hope and the inability to make choices.

Michael is a single retired pensioner in his eighties. He lives alone and has several health issues including arthritis and lung fibrosis - he is also blind in one eye following a stroke and has had both hips replaced. He had a poor diet due to a broken cooker but could not afford to replace this after paying his weekly bills - his health was suffering as a result.

A Compassionate Response:
Protestant Aid funded a new cooker and worked in conjunction with Michael’s Social Worker to have this supplied and fitted. Michael is now eating healthy meals and his situation has improved significantly.

There are people behind those words who need help, care and compassion - and it is our privilege to try and be there for them.
Poverty can also create fear and despair, often leading to or exacerbating poor physical and mental health.

The reasons continue to be numerous - marital breakdown, bereavement, unemployment, illness and, increasingly, rising rents place many people in circumstances they never thought they would have to contemplate. Perhaps surprisingly, many of the situations where we provide help can often confound our assumptions about this social malady. Contrary to popular belief, there are no stereotypes. Poverty can affect anyone!

The applications we receive go beyond written accounts of financial tribulation - there are people behind those words who need help, care and compassion - and it is our privilege to try and be there for them.

In a recent thank you note received from a family we helped, they described the ‘relief of being believed’ as they dealt with the stress and struggles of poverty. Being in debt can feel like drowning and when you’re in that situation, you need help.

Rent increases cause problems

It can be difficult to comprehend the difficulties a rent increase can cause to people living on a financial precipice. Janet and her elderly sister found themselves in fear of switching on their immersion or heating because of the resulting utility bills - not a position you want to be in at any age let alone when you are pensioners. Their health was also affected because of poor nutrition due to a decreasing disposable income.

A Compassionate Response:

Protestant Aid responded immediately by issuing a General Grant as well as a follow-up annuity. Janet and her sister are now warm and comfortable due to this help and no longer fear the arrival of bills they cannot afford.
We’re all part of the solution

Every year, we are reminded of, and are grateful for the loyalty, kindness and generosity of our donors who allow us to support thousands of families in desperate need.

As always, every euro donated continues to be re-distributed in charitable grants without deduction, providing the lifeline that helps to alleviate stress and poverty in countless situations.

We continue to operate on a strictly non-denominational basis and all cases are handled with compassion and confidentiality, regardless of religious or ethnic background.

Your generosity to Protestant Aid has made you part of the solution to poverty in Ireland, allowing us to reach out to those who need the help.

The extra mile...

We continue to be appreciative of our Review Team who give so much time and wisdom as they meet and help to assess grant applications - it is a serious commitment but given with much grace, dedication and compassion. A sincere thank you to each one of the team.

As we reflect on another year, we are so thankful for the kindness, compassion and generosity of our supporters who are effectively our partners in all we do. People like you make this world a better place, and by choosing to give to Protestant Aid, you are truly contributing to a worthy solution to poverty.

Thank you for going the extra mile.

Health difficulties cause distress for divorced mother

Sharyn is unable to work due to several hip operations which have compromised her mobility - the pressures of life have also led her to spend time in a psychiatric unit during which time her children were minded by a relative. Utility bills mounted while she was in hospital adding further anxiety and worry to an already stressful period.

A Compassionate Response:

Thanks to her Rector, Sharyn was put in touch with an organisation which assisted her with budgeting while Protestant Aid granted funds to pay for the overdue utilities. Sharyn now has a fresh start and the relief from financial pressure has greatly improved her health.

St John’s House

A new era in nursing home care

The completion and handover of Phase One of the new St John’s House Nursing Home building on the Merrion Road (opposite St. Vincent’s Hospital), Dublin 4 during December 2018 was a major step and a historic moment in the history of St John’s House.

It is now home to 39 residents. Anyone who has visited the new home has been greatly impressed by the space and light in the rooms and corridors as well as the wonderful furnishings. The Second and final Phase of the building works is well advanced and consists of link buildings and the refurbishment of the existing St John’s House. When fully complete the new St John’s House will provide high quality accommodation and nursing home care for 56 elderly residents and will include two floors of state-of-the-art private rooms with en-suite facilities, while the ground floor will accommodate offices, staff rooms, kitchens, hairdresser, medical and other social facilities. This significant investment in providing full nursing home care reflects the determination of the St John’s House Committee to meet contemporary standards and challenges in tandem with all the necessary regulatory requirements.

The precious history, culture and atmosphere of St John’s House, St Mary’s Home and The Molyneux Home have not been forgotten and have been incorporated into a number of aspects of the new building.

For instance, the restored Chapel, where the Sisters of St John the Evangelist and residents have worshipped over the decades, will now accommodate a stained glass window and other significant artefacts from St Mary’s Home.

Rev Canon Andrew McCroskery is the Chaplain of the new St John’s Home. Andrew is a newly installed Canon in Christ Church Cathedral, is vicar of St Bartholomew’s in Clyde Road and has for many years acted as Chaplain to St Mary’s Home.

We are grateful for an excellent team of nursing staff and carers who respond to the needs and preferences of all those living in St John’s House.
PA Network Visitors

Inspiring examples

In a world dominated by self-interest, we continue to be thankful for a great team of Network Visitors who give unstintingly of their time to help others.

Working on a voluntary basis they visit Annuitants and General Grant applicants as well as promoting the work and vision of Protestant Aid.

Their empathy, sensitivity, diplomacy and confidentiality are vital skills and we are very grateful to each of our Network Visitors for their generosity and commitment.

Our team consists of 1Elizabeth Temple (Mountcharles), 2Jennifer Shaw (Ennis), 3Mildred Gilmore (Ballisodare), and 4Phyllis Grothier (Bagenelstown).

Thank you for being our partners in tackling poverty.
Special Thanks

The Department of the Environment, Community & Local Government has been a consistent supporter of PA’s work over the years - in fact, since the mid-90s - and 2018 was no exception.

The Department again provided an annual grant of €150,000 as well as an additional €30,000 amount for those with urgent needs, and as with all donations to PA, this was distributed without any deductions for overheads. PA is most grateful for this generous addition to its funds.

Donors’ Generosity

Thanks to the on-going generosity of our loyal donors who consistently contribute every year by cheque, standing order or online, Protestant Aid is able to distribute every euro it receives. The personal tax element of subscriptions over €250 from PAYE taxpayers and the self-employed can be reclaimed by Protestant Aid, while there are also tax advantages for corporate donors. Those giving a gift of assets can do so without the imposition of Capital Gains Tax.

Legacies

In recent years, legacies have become an increasingly important contribution to PA’s funds and because they can be invested wisely for use in the future, they are an invaluable resource. They are entrusted to PA by those who have left provision in their wills for the continuity of PA’s work, so current supporters are asked to consider Protestant Aid and its work when making out their Will.

Family trauma of a single mother

Sheila battled a cancer diagnosis and has had to take off a lot of time from work. On top of this, her youngest child is in hospital following a traumatic head injury and remains heavily sedated. With a reduced income, she is left with a pittance on which to manage. Travelling costs from her remote home to visit her son in hospital added to her problems.

A Compassionate Response:

Protestant Aid allocated a grant to this applicant to assist with travelling costs and other additional costs including parking and other expenses.

Sheila’s son remains in a serious condition but the grant given has alleviated the worry of additional financial stress.
Thank You

After spending two years in emergency accommodation, Joe and his three children were housed by the local authority and received some help from the CWO to buy basic household furniture such as beds, a cooker and a fridge for which they were very grateful. One of the major items the family needed was storage for their clothes. Through key working, it was noted that the family had been living out of black bags as they could not afford to buy wardrobes for their new home.

The client highlighted how frustrated he felt not being in a position to buy wardrobes and the stress of all the arguments every morning was starting to take its toll on the family. I went through the family’s finances and observed that their budget was much over-stretched even though they lived a very basic lifestyle. I suggested applying to Protestant Aid for some financial support and completed the application form with the client.

He did not hold much hope of the application being successful but after a few weeks we got confirmation that the application was approved. The client cried with joy when we told them. They were shocked at the kindness shown to their family - they did not believe it could happen. This client is very thankful for all the help and generosity they received from Protestant Aid.
