As my tenure as Chairman of Protestant Aid nears its end, I am happy to reflect on much progress made over that period. Efficiency is key in any organisation and I can ponder with some satisfaction on the streamlining of operations within PA over the years and the exemplary standards throughout the organisation, thanks to dedicated professionals in each area of the group.

A significant highlight is the completed, refurbished and extended St. John’s Nursing Home on Merrion Road in Dublin 4. Notwithstanding some challenges along the way, it is now state-of-the-art and one of the most advanced nursing home facilities in the country, while continuing to pay homage to its joint heritage with St. Mary’s Nursing Home and The Molyneux Home, featuring many artefacts from both.

Sincere thanks to Gordon Richards and Dr Michael Webb along with a committed team who successfully delivered this magnificent result.

Thanks are also due to Susan Anderson, Director of Nursing at Brabazon, and her team, where superb nursing home care is provided to over 50 residents as well as apartment accommodation for others, enabling residents to live independently while still being part of a sheltered community.

As I consider with some gratitude the positive changes that I have witnessed, it must also be acknowledged with some regret that hardship continues to be a consistent element within our society.
A pro-active Charitable Services Team dealt with a record-breaking number of applications during 2019 and the Grants Committee, under the Chairmanship of David Pierce, worked long and hard to ensure financial assistance was given where it was needed most.

We continue to work alongside many charitable organisations who work at the coal-face of need.

We are also grateful to the many clergy who bring applications to our attention and allow us to bring some light into lives that are often in despair. The financial stress experienced by families increasingly relates to housing issues as well as difficulties with family health and separation.

The number of applications involving mental health challenges is also growing and this problem often pertains to younger members of the family where social media engagement adds to the stress of peer pressure.

THANK YOU

Dear Protestant Aid team

Thank you all so much for the support you have given to many of the people that I have worked with this past year. As a Social Worker based in the community, I have worked with some very vulnerable and socially isolated people. Your service is so valuable in supporting people who really do struggle in our society.

Each time I have been able to secure funding on behalf of my clients to assist them with improving an aspect of their lives, they are so very grateful and relieved. I am also grateful to you - your generous consideration of each application is a gift of compassion.

Deirdre,
Social Worker
Average incomes may have risen nationally but even when employed, there are thousands of people still trying to find a path out of hardship and distress. Older people can often be particularly vulnerable, with the poverty rate for people aged 65 plus and living alone having increased significantly over the last number of years, according to the CSO. As a consequence, we are particularly conscious of helping those of advanced years, with an increasing number being assisted through our Heating Annuities - a real comfort at the coldest times of the year.

At this time, I want to express my sincere thanks to all the Board members who have been so supportive during my period as Chairman - it has been greatly appreciated.

Thanks also to the selfless volunteers on our various committees for their unrelenting dedication over the years - their support and contribution is invaluable. Our Chief Executive, David Webb, has led from the front and my gratitude goes to him for his hard work and leadership. Particular thanks at this time must also go to our Patron, Archbishop Michael Jackson, who has been, and continues to be, consistently supportive of the aims and aspirations of Protestant Aid. His encouraging words and help have been deeply appreciated.

My final expression of gratitude must, of course, go to our donors. Your generosity not only makes our work possible, but also encourages us in all we do as we attempt to bring some financial comfort and solace where it is most needed.

Thank you as always for going the extra mile.

Arthur Vincent, Chairman

Caring mum works hard to cope

Elaine* is a mother with three children and a committed member of her church congregation. Her husband left several years ago and gives no support to, or has no communication with, his family. She had to reduce her hours in order to care for one of her children who has serious health issues and the family is struggling financially, particularly with household utilities.

A compassionate response:

Protestant Aid supported this family by making General Grants until Elaine* could return to full hours in her employment. This helped cover utility bills and heating during some difficult years and helped put the family back on their feet.

*Not her real name
Reflecting on 2019, it has been one of significant progress for Protestant Aid as we continued to deliver on our core competencies of providing essential financial aid to the most vulnerable in our society in times of crisis, transforming the futures of children through our education grants and caring for elderly residents in our nursing homes and sheltered housing.

This Annual Report is intended not only to give you an understanding of last year’s activities and performance but also to highlight our ongoing work and, importantly, the positive impact we have had on so many individuals and families. And as you will read, there have been some exceptional achievements made in the last 12 months and, in particular, the completion of the re-development of St. John’s Nursing Home after a three-year building project.

Our financial grant supports continue to provide much-needed help to those who find themselves in crisis. The stories you read in this Report provide a reminder of the importance of our work and our ability to swiftly and decisively help the most vulnerable in our society.

Our fundamental purpose is to help those in need with compassion and respect and everything we do stems from this conviction. This is an exciting time for PA as we look to complete a full strategic review and develop a new strategic plan in 2020 which sets out a roadmap for the future.
With our newly developed state-of-the-art facility in St John’s House and the highly regarded Brabazon Nursing Home, we are well placed to be the number one choice for nursing care within our community in future years.

We continue to enhance our residents’ quality of life and provide a safe, physical and emotional environment with quality accommodation and a strong Christian ethos for residents to enjoy during their senior years.

Much has changed in the area of nursing home care in recent years with heightened regulatory attention and in response we have put in place robust quality, risk and safety governance structures which resulted in an excellent HIQA Report last year. We are very fortunate to have a dedicated group of volunteers, nurses and carers, administrators and maintenance workers to ensure the high levels of care are maintained.

Protestant Aid has a long history of helping those in need and the work we do now is no less relevant to when we began our mission over 180 years ago. Indeed, the enduring work of Protestant Aid has again been evidenced in recent weeks with the emergence of the Covid-19 pandemic.

We will be ready to support the many thousands of people who will suffer loss in the coming months in much the same way as Protestant Aid helped those who suffered during the similar epidemics over one hundred years ago.
Whilst time moves on - the hardship and pain caused by job loss, depression, addiction, disease, ill health and abuse remain a constant threat and notwithstanding huge societal, technological and demographic changes since our inception - the need will always be there.

Lastly, I would like to thank you, the donors, whose loyalty and support over the years has allowed us help so many people. Our growth and our continued success can only be achieved by your generosity and your belief in our mission.

Thank you for helping us change lives every day.

David Webb, Chief Executive

Dear Protestant Aid team,

Jenny* was a separated mother with two young children, 7 and 5. She was diagnosed with cancer following a liver transplant and had to make a long journey three times per month for Chemotherapy sessions. She left her job due to the severity of her illness and was struggling to pay basic household expenses.

Her Social Worker responds:

I spoke with Jenny* and she is overjoyed with the financial support you have provided to her. This really means a lot and she has asked me to share her gratitude with your organisation. Thank you again for all your support, it means so much to people when they experience the exceptional circumstance of serious illness.

The Colour of Hope

"Hope is being able to see that there is light despite all of the darkness"

Desmond Tutu’s words remind us of the importance of hope, but do they have any resonance for those families who are living in homeless accommodation, worrying about children, finance and health?

It is not easy to have hope when you live with your children in an over-crowded ‘hotel’ room without cooking or laundry facilities. How and when will life improve? You are tired and fed-up seeing your children eat take-out food and struggle to complete their schoolwork with noisy siblings at their side and you are weary from stress and worry.

There are many sides to poverty, of course, some more subtle than others but nevertheless devastating. A cold house, an unpaid bill or a delayed visit to the doctor - this is the side of hardship that is faced by people who are often reluctant to ask for assistance.

Poverty is not just about a lack of money, as if that wasn’t bad enough – it seeps into mental and physical health like a poison, destroying confidence and self-belief.
The General Grant Applications we receive and review over a year cover just about every situation you can imagine, and some you might not like to. Broken families, poor health, homelessness, addiction issues etc. are often described in vivid detail and reading these can often challenge the sturdiest of souls.

But frequently there is no great drama - a family in full stride hit by an unexpected bill, a redundancy or a bout of ill health, all kept discreetly from an outside world that can often be judgemental and critical of need.

Those two words are not part of the vocabulary of the Grants Committee who meet regularly to review and consider how best to assist each applicant. Our tagline, ‘Care & Compassion in Action’ is more than evident during these meetings, as each committee member seeks the most empathetic and caring outcome in each case.

A harrowing accident and a changed life

Life was going well for Roger* until he suffered a serious and life-changing injury due to a harrowing accident. This tragedy resulted in a cascade of social, occupational, financial, psychological and medical consequences leaving him with serious mobility issues and the cost of an Electric Wheelchair.

A compassionate response:

We will never be in a position to solve every problem, but we can always help in most situations. We helped to fund an Electric Wheelchair for Roger*, giving him some independence and freedom. He continues to have many challenges but knows he is not alone when facing these issues.

Not his real name
There are no perks to the job for these dedicated souls, no expenses, no remuneration of any kind, other than the satisfaction of being able to assist those who have cried out for help.

The folk on the Grants Committee include David Pierce (Chairman) as well as Glynis Good, Mary Neill, Ingrid Goodbody, Robert Bell, Canon David Gillespie, Bryan Dobson, Tom Hogan, Robert Neill and Mark Younge - thanks to each one of the team for their unequivocal commitment to helping others.

The funds that we are in a position to grant exist due to the kindness of donors who, thankfully, also have an agenda that includes helping others. Generosity is a precious and rare commodity in today’s world, where greed and pride often appear to dominate.

But kindness does continue to exist, and we are heartened by the donations that allow us to continue our work – gifts given in the knowledge that every cent will reach those in need or despair. Gifts given in the knowledge that help is given fairly with need taking precedent over ethnicity or denomination.

That generosity is what allows our applicants to have hope. Hope that creates optimism, confidence and opportunity. There’s not a better way to give a person hope than by accepting them and their situation without judgement. That is what we do. Thank you for doing the same.

Geoff Scargill, Head of Charitable Services

Grandmother takes responsibility

Following the tragic death of her daughter, 75-year-old Edna* took on the responsibility of raising her 10-year-old granddaughter with only minimal State Child Benefit to assist financially. Living on a small pension with the growing needs of her granddaughter was a serious worry for this loving grandmother - how would she cope?

A compassionate response:

We were able to help with household and primary school expenses through our General Grant Programme. Edna* is greatly reassured that further assistance may also be available if and when needed - very reassuring for this dedicated grandmother.

A new beginning

The new St John’s House is the culmination of many years of planning to create a residential centre that is unique and meets the needs of the 21st century.

The coming together of St Mary’s Home, the Molyneux Home and St John’s House in a purpose-built new home is a new beginning for three historic homes. The new facility has 56 beds with state-of-the-art private rooms with en-suite bathrooms.

The rooms are bright and airy and are much larger than the minimum standard achieved by many commercial homes.

The old St John’s House building on the Merrion Road has been totally refurbished to provide dining rooms, sitting rooms, an activity room and a coffee bar where residents can entertain their family and friends.
The entrance hall leads to a large and airy concourse with sofas and a grand piano. Off the concourse is a hairdressing salon, a doctor’s room and a treatment room.

Central to the home is the chapel which has been totally refurbished to include many artefacts from the old St Mary’s chapel including a stained glass window. The Chaplain is Canon Andrew McCroskery who celebrates Holy Communion each Friday morning. Morning Prayer is said each Sunday and the chapel is used on other special occasions.

The residents of St Mary’s Home, the Molyneux Home and St John’s House have settled in well and are greatly enjoying their new surroundings.

The activities team organise a varied programme to involve the residents and visiting choirs and musicians also entertain from time to time. The Home is managed by a voluntary Management Committee supported by Director of Nursing, Anne Kavanagh and her team, and General Manager Simon Homan.

St John’s House looks forward to serving its residents in superb facilities over the coming years.

Parents struggle with illness

Sheila* was on sick leave from work due to a rare form of liver cancer. Her immunotherapy treatment took place every three weeks but was not covered by her insurance provider. She struggled to fund this as well as rent, travel and utilities. A lot of pressure on this young woman as she faced a life-threatening illness.

A compassionate response:

Protestant Aid took some of the pressure off Sheila* by granting assistance to help fund travel, utilities and other household expenses.

PA NETWORK VISITORS
Caring and compassionate

We say a fond farewell to Network Visitor Jenny Shaw who has worked so hard with much dedication from her base in Ennis - thank you, Jenny!

We welcome Beverley Callender as a new Network Visitor and are delighted she has agreed to be part of the team. Beverley’s background is in Nursing and she has wide experience of working with various organisations on a voluntary basis. Welcome to the team, Beverley! Each member of the team works on a voluntary basis giving selflessly of their time to make visits and write reports.

They are generous, talented, professional and caring ladies. Their empathy, sensitivity, diplomacy and confidentiality are important skills that support the work of Protestant Aid as we endeavour to assist in our communities.

Beverley (1) joins a team that includes Elizabeth Temple (2), Mildred Gilmore (3) and Phyllis Grothier (4).
Dear Protestant Aid team

After a troubled life full of challenges and hardship, this young mother made a determined effort to turn her life around. She was accepted into a Third-Level Access Programme but her limited income did not allow for the cost of a laptop on top of her household expenses. Encouraged by her tenacity and courage, we funded the cost of a basic laptop, enabling this client to continue in her studies and improve her life for herself and her daughter.

Her Case Manager responds:

To all at Protestant Aid. Please accept my sincere thanks on behalf of our client. Your grant will make such a difference as she continues her education. It will provide the access she needs to meet her academic requirements - she is becoming more confident as she experiences opportunities and possibilities that were once closed to her. Thank you for your deep, kind consideration of her application. Your help has made a huge difference to her life.

Anne, Case Manager
SPECIAL THANKS

The Department of Rural & Community Development

The Department of Rural & Community Development continues to be a consistent supporter of our work over the years and 2019 was no exception. The Department again provided an annual grant of €150,000 as well as an additional €30,000 amount for those with urgent needs. This grant is of vital importance and we are grateful for this generous partnership in addressing need.

Donors’ Generosity

We are able to provide grants to those in need thanks to the ongoing generosity of our loyal donors who consistently contribute every year by cheque, standing order, or online. Personal donors, both PAYE taxpayers and the self-employed, are reminded that the tax element of donations over €250 can be reclaimed from the Revenue by Protestant Aid at no cost to the donor. There are also tax advantages for corporate donors. Those giving a gift of assets can do so without the imposition of Capital Gains Tax.

Legacies

In recent years, legacies have become an increasingly important contribution to PA’s funds and because they can be invested wisely for use in the future, they are an invaluable resource. They are entrusted to PA by those who have left provision in their wills for the continuity of PA’s work, so current supporters are asked to consider Protestant Aid and its work when making out their Will.
PA Grant Schemes

The primary areas of support given by PA include:

- General grants to alleviate poverty or distress
- Annuities for the elderly
- Heating allowances for the elderly
- Second-level education fees grants and expenses to assist pupils to attend Protestant-managed schools
- Third-level interest free loans

PA Administered Charities

Charities administered under the Protestant Aid umbrella include:

- The Brabazon Trust
- St. John’s House of Rest
- Strand Trust CLG (includes Pembroke Memorial Cottages Trust)
- Old Men’s Home Charity
- Irish Distressed Ladies Fund
- Church of Ireland Jubilee Fund
- Irish Clergy Sons Education Society
- Kirwan House
- Berwick Trust
